INTRODUCTION

Purpose - This manual is designed to assist members of the Military Order of the Stars & Bars (MOS&B) at all levels to understand the MOS&B Awards Program. It provides basic guidance for each MOS&B award and the criteria/procedures for recommending and approving awards. It is meant to help members of the MOS&B to identify which awards both themselves, their chapters / societies and others may be eligible.

Important Changes, effective February 2024 include: (1) the Awards General has a new email specifically for MOS&B Awards business – awards.mosb@gmail.com – ALL awards communications should be directed to this email only; (2) all award nomination forms have been revised and marked “Effective February 2024” – all previous editions will not be accepted; they all have picture of appropriate medal in top right corner; (3) location of awards nomination forms are now posted on new website and instructions provided; (4) annual award nomination periods will open at 0001 on 01MAR and closes at 2359 on 31MAR; (5) Edward Cailleateau top-recruiter award updated to include award cash stipends for 1st, 2nd and 3rd place winners; (6) minor corrections to medal descriptions were necessary (wrong color ribbon noted, miniature vs large medal, etc); (6) “Combat Service Device” formally introduced for Military Service Award, (8) the list of certain medal recipients has been revised through 2023 award cycle, and lastly, (9) added Appendix A MOS&B Army Departments info and re-designated Appendices A-D as B-E.

General Guidelines – Individual, Chapter and Society award nominations should be routed through Society Awards Coordinators and/or Commanders for review prior to submission to the National Awards General for consideration and processing. Certain awards, such as the Military Service Award and the Real Grandson/Great Grandson Awards, are processed directly through the designated Committee Chairman via the Executive Director rather than through the National Awards General.

It is the responsibility of the nominating party to read the applicable portions of the on-line award-related manuals and to provide all information, on the correct electronic nomination form, including recipient’s name, Chapter/Society, and other information required by the form. All nominations should provide sufficient justification for the level of award proposed; however, be aware that some award nominations have limits allowed for the written justification – do not exceed those limits. With the advent of electronic form submission to the National Awards General, submission cut-off dates will be strictly enforced; tardy submissions will be returned without further consideration. No hand-written or hard-copy forms will be accepted. Supplemental information such as photos may be added on extra pages should the nomination not contain limits to length. If a deserving compatriot spends significant time and effort supporting the Chapter, the Society and/or the IHQ of the MOS&B, it is a reasonable expectation for the nominator to spend the time to properly prepare the award nomination to enhance the possibility of approval of said award nominee.

The completed nomination form should be submitted via e-mail to the National Awards General for processing and consideration in accordance with the Awards Calendar. As of 01FEB2024, the Award General’s e-mail address is awards.mosb@gmail.com. Telephone or other verbal or hard-copy written requests cannot be accepted. Electronic submissions save time and costs involved with mailing for all.

Fillable PDF forms may be obtained on the National website. To access the files, follow these instructions (picture on next page): (1) click “Resources” at top of main page; (2) Select “Documents” for the drop down box which appears; (3) Select either “General Executive Council Award Nomination” or “Award Nomination Forms”; (4) Then select whichever form you desire (however, it is suggested that you download each of the forms to your personal files for future use). NOTICE: Always check that you have the most current form. The latest forms are currently designated “Effective February 2024” on each page.

The screenshot shows the MOS&B website interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with 'Home', 'About', 'Programs', 'Join Us', and 'Resources'. A red arrow points from the 'Resources' menu (callout 1) to the 'Documents & Forms' section (callout 2). Below this, there are sections for 'MOS&B Manuals' (including Awards Manual, Confederate Flag Etiquette, MOS&B Handbook, and Award Originators) and 'MOS&B Documents' (including MOS&B Constitution, MOS&B Bylaws, MOS&B Founders, Recruiting Brochure, Scholarship App Instructions, and VFW War Service Eligibility S). The 'General Executive Council Award Nomination' section (callout 3) is highlighted, with a note that awards may only be nominated for consideration by members of the General Executive Council. Below this, there are links for '2023 Robert E. Lee Chalice Nomination', '2023 Gold Star Award - Army Of Northern V', '2023 Gold Star Award - Army Of Tennessee', and '2023 Gold Star Award - Army Of Trans-Miss'. A 'Previous Award Recipients' link is also present. The 'Award Nomination Forms' section (callout 4) lists various awards such as Distinguished Commander Service Award, MGEN Patrick Cleburne Meritorious Service Award, LT Charles S. Read Award for Meritorious Service - Chapter Level, COL John Pelham Legion of Merit Award for Distinguished Service - General Society Level, Judah P Benjamin Merit Award - Highest Award for Non-Member, Varina Howell Davis Award - Ladies Supportive to the MOS&B, Winnie Davis Award - Ladies Supportive to the MOS&B, Joseph Evans Davis Award - CoC or MOS&B 12-18 YOA, Law and Order Award, COL Walter Taylor Award - Best Society Newsletter, CPT John Morton Award - Best Chapter Newsletter, COL Walter Hopkins Distinguished Chapter Award - Page 1, COL Walter Hopkins Distinguished Chapter Award - Page 2, LTG Thomas Jackson Grave Maintenance Award, Henry Timrod Southern Culture Award, T. J. Fakes Award for Best Chapter Website/Social Media, J. E. B. Stuart Award for Best Society Website/Social Media, and Military Service Award.

Remember, these awards are for EXCEPTIONAL and CONSISTENT PERFORMANCE, above and beyond what is expected of every member, and nominations should be limited to maintain the prestige of these awards. These awards should reflect consistent contributions at the Chapter, Society and/or IHQ levels, not just “time in service” or “participation” awards.

Even those who are deserving of higher awards are expected to work their way up the levels, such as LT Read > Col Pelham > MG Cleburne meritorious awards. The National Awards General will not unilaterally “cull” excessive nominations but reserves the right to return nominations back to the originator and request that consideration be given for a different level of award and/or change the justification to warrant such level of award.

There is no rule that an officer cannot nominate himself if an award is otherwise deserved. Since they are often reluctant to do so, higher level commanders should assure that commanders under his purview are considered for any warranted recognition.

Rebel Club awards are generated in cooperation with the Executive Director’s office and are based on members recruited as noted on original application forms. The National Awards General will provide appropriate certificates and medals for recipients.

MOS&B AWARDS MANUAL

15 May 2024

The Robert E Lee Chalice and the three Army-specific Gold Star Awards will be made strictly by the General Executive Council and not through the National Awards General. Nominations for these awards should be presented in writing via the nominator’s Army Commander to the attention of the GEC or directly to a member of the GEC. The CG and the Executive Director should also receive a copy of each nomination form. Again, the nominations must be made via electronic means and not via hard-copy or verbal means.

Members are encouraged to nominate worthy recipients of the Law and Order Award, especially considering these troubled times in which we live. Law Enforcement Officers willingly put their lives on the line every day for our membership. This is the one way that we can recognize their willingness to go into the danger zone rather than to run from such trouble to protect and serve our states and our nation.

Awards Calendar – the MOS&B Awards Calendar is simple – all nominations are due into the National Awards Chair or the GEC, as appropriate, no later than 2359 on 31 March of each calendar year. As previously noted, there will be no exceptions made for late submissions as your emails are all date-stamped by your email service as they are transmitted.

The fact that no prior reminders are sent out by the IHQ and/or the National Awards General is not an excuse for failure to submit nominations on time. They are simply due on 01APR of each year; mark your calendars accordingly. Generally, the Awards General requests that no nominations be submitted prior to 01MAR of the current calendar year lest they become “lost” in the multitude of emails he receives/sends; however, Military Service Medals may be submitted at any time of the year.

SECTION 1: INDIVIDUAL AWARDS – MEMBERS

Any member of the MOS&B at any level may be recommended for a National Award by a colleague, his Chapter Commander or Society Commander or his Army Commander or even a member of the National Command Staff or General Executive Council. Recommendations shall be made on the applicable form and submitted to the National Awards General via at least one level of the Command structure for concurrence and information. General guidelines for writing effective nominations are outlined in the MOS&B Manual for Award Originators (Feb 2021).

Robert E Lee Chalice Award

Purpose: The Robert E Lee Chalice Award is the highest award that is bestowed by the General Executive Council (GEC) to an individual. It is presented annually to a member in good standing who has served the Military Order of the Stars & Bars (MOS&B) with outstanding and exemplary work during the past year. The recipient should exemplify the leadership, daring and courage of General Robert E Lee.

Number of Awards: Only one award may be granted annually, but there is no requirement that the award must be presented each year.

Eligibility: The nominee must be a current member in good standing of the MOS&B at the time of their nomination and award presentation. All recipients must be past recipients of The Gold Star. An individual may receive this award only once in his lifetime (See Appendix A for past Lee Chalice and Gold Star recipients). An individual cannot nominate himself for this award.

Selection Process: Nominations for the Robert E. Lee Chalice are solicited from voting members of the General Executive Council. Nominations must be received at General Headquarters (GHQ) and the Commander General (CG) on official electronic forms by email; deadline will be March 1 of each year to enable ballot forms to be generated by the GHQ prior to Spring GEC meeting. It is highly recommended that originators prepare their nominations on the proper form and return as soon as practical. Narratives should be at least fifty (50) words and not more than one hundred fifty (150) words (see Manual for Award Originators for suggestions regarding wording).

The list of nominees, with accompanying narratives, are then distributed to the voting members of the Spring General Executive Council meeting. The individual receiving the largest number of votes will be declared the recipient. In case of a tie, another ballot with the two individuals receiving the largest number of votes in the initial balloting will be submitted to the General Executive Council to select the single recipient. The recipient is named at the annual National Convention by the Commander General.

Form of Award: Engraved silver chalice accompanied by a gold medal suspended from a gold ribbon and a miniature medal.

Gold Star Award

Purpose: This Annual National award is selected by voting members of the GEC and is the second highest award bestowed on an individual by the MOS&B. Candidates should be members who exemplify the highest work ethic and outstanding leadership principles of the Confederate Officer Corps.

Honorary Commander General

The General Society in convention assembled may elect Honorary Commander Generals from among those who have rendered distinguished and notable service to the Society, or to the state or nation. A Past Commander General cannot receive this award. The acceptance of this award prohibits the recipient from being elected Commander General. This award shall consist of a certificate only.

Major General Patrick R. Cleburne Meritorious Service Award

Purpose: This Annual National award is presented by the Commander General to members in recognition of meritorious acts of service for furtherance of the National Military Order of the Stars and Bars and the Southern Cause for which it stands. This award commemorates the leadership and courage of Major General Patrick R Cleburne, known as the “Stonewall of the West”, who was considered one of the South’s finest commanders in the Western Theater. The meritorious service of recipients to the MOS&B should emulate the devotion and loyalty of this Irish-born general to his newly adopted country. It is the highest of three available awards to recognize individual meritorious service to the organization.

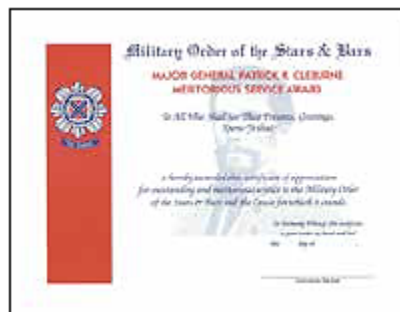

Number of Awards: This award is limited to three (3) nominations per Society per year and to no more than one (1) nomination per Chapter per year. Should any Society not have three (3) nominations, the Society Commander may authorize a Chapter within the Society to provide more than one (1) nominee provided the total nominees does not exceed the Society’s allowance of three. Army Commanders may submit one (1) additional discretionary nomination each year.

The Awards General will review all nominations received to ensure each nominee’s service rises to the level of said award. Should an excess number of nominations be received for any one Society, those will be presented to a non-partisan group of persons (usually military veterans or business owners) who will review the forms and select the requisite number of awardees allowed. Should the group not be able to draw and definite conclusion, the five (5) top-ranked nominees will be referred to either the Society Commander or the Army Commander for final consideration.

Form of Award: The award shall consist of a miniature silver medal suspended from a green and gold ribbon honoring General Cleburne’s Irish heritage for first-time recipients and a certificate. Should an excess number of nominations be received for any one Society, those will be presented to a non-partisan group of persons (usually military veterans or business owners) who will review the forms and select the requisite number of awardees allowed. Should the group not be able to draw a definite conclusion to fill allowable awardees, the six (6) top-ranked nominees will be referred to either the Society Commander or the Army Commander for final consideration.

Selection Process: Nominees are submitted on official nomination forms by email via Society Commander directly to the National Awards General. Nominations will only be accepted electronically by the National Awards General and must arrive NLT 2359 hours on 01APR of the year nominated.

Should an excess number of nominations be received for any one Society, those will be presented to a non-partisan group of persons (usually military veterans or business leaders) who will review the forms and select the requisite number of awardees allowed. Should the group not be able to draw and definite conclusion, the ten (10) top-ranked nominees will be referred to either the Society Commander or the Army Commander for final consideration.

Unlike other meritorious service to the MOS&B, these medals recognize the member’s military service contributions to our Nation; the cost of the award is borne by the recipient or his sponsor. Therefore, there is no set limit on number of awards authorized each year.

Eligibility: Any MOS&B member in good standing at IHQ as well as his own Chapter/Society who served honorably as a member of the US Armed Forces. The Military Service Medal is awarded for faithful and devoted service to our country’s armed forces. The Combat Service Device, a small CSA Maltese Crosse shall be provided for display on the cloth drop in recognition of service which includes a tour within a recognized combat zone as outlined by the VFW’s Eligibility List. This award reflects favorably upon the recipient and his Confederate ancestry.

Selection Process: The applicant provides written proof of honorable service in the Armed Forces (such as DD-214) and, if applicable, proof of service during times of conflict in a combat zone as listed by the Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW). Applicant submits official application form, supporting documentation and $70 fee to Executive Director, IHQ, PO Box 697, Nixa, MO 65714-0697. The ED will relay the info to Chairman, Military Service Committee for approval. Approval will be forwarded to National Awards Committee Chairman for processing and distribution of appropriate certificate and medal set.

Form of Award: The award consists of a certificate and both a large and miniature medal with or without Combat Service Device, as appropriate. NOTE: These medals may be applied for at any time of the year.

NOTE: In Circa 2009-15, these medals and designations transitioned, i.e. the Southern Cross of Military Honor medal was renamed the War Service Medal and vice versa. Some confusion exists regarding the reason for the change; however, records are annotated appropriately at IHQ. All medals are engraved with the recipient’s name, service branch or war zone as appropriate, and serial number of the medal.

As of 01JAN2023, The former War Service Medal (identified at left as “Obsolete”) has been retired; however, wear by recipients is authorized AND, if issued for war service, a Combat Service Device may be worn on it to identify such service (combat devices may be requested by email from Awards General free of charge during CY 2023 only).

J.E.B. Stuart Award – Society Award for Best Website / Social Media

Purpose: This Annual National award is presented to the Society whose website and/or social media site has been judged best in the MOS&B. It should document the activities of the Society in the fulfillment of the goals and objectives of the Order. Sites will be judged on attractiveness, ease of use and uniqueness of appearance, documentation of current activities and meetings of the past year, theme and overall interest.

Eligibility: Any Society within the MOS&B maintaining a high-quality website or social media page from the month following the previous year’s National Convention to April 1 of the following year.

Selection Process: Societies who wish to enter this competition must submit a nomination form to the Awards General no later than April 1st of each year. Scoring will be based on generally recognized criteria for website/social media excellence – see Appendix 3. Sites should be up-to-date, attractive looking, relatively fast loading, with easy navigation, and with the purpose of the site clearly understandable to a visitor. All pages should have title tags and navigation. Of course, valuable content is always a positive: information about the MOS&B for visitors, links to other useful sites, or features useful to members (upcoming events, ways to stay in touch, etc.).

While website/social media designs are a very subjective issue, perhaps more guidance can be gained from looking at some negative impressions from past evaluations, looking at a variety of sites:

- Color combinations too splashy or gaudy (black, red, yellow, green)
- Text too hard to read (e.g., red text on black background)
- Font sizes too large or too bold
- Font faces not consistent between pages
- Color scheme not consistent between pages
- Pages with no navigation, or way to get back to previous pages
- Pages that are very slow to load
- Bad grammar or spelling, or lack of paragraph breaks
- Popup ads (while not specifically forbidden, they do not give a good impression)
- Sites that work in Internet Explorer, but not in other browsers (Firefox, iOS, Safari, etc.)
- Sites that obviously were created years ago and have had little or no updates since

All sites MUST have a “Members Only” section which requires user ID and password access. PII must be protected on these sites; National Awards General must be given access to this area for judging purposes. Three non-partisan professionals will review the newsletters and winners will be chosen based on a set of evaluation criteria as shown in Appendix C. Decisions of the judging are final.

Form of Award: 1st, 2nd and 3rd place winners receive a certificate and streamer (black with white lettering) noting their achievement. Initial information regarding judging criteria will be provided in January 2022.

APPENDIX C

PROTOCOL FOR WEARING MEDALS, DECORATIONS, BADGES AND INSIGNIA

Introduction

The prestige and influence of the Military Order of the Stars and Bars (MOSB) depend largely upon the loyalty of its members. It is therefore deemed especially important that every member should display the official insignia of the MOSB on all suitable occasions. Beyond that, wearing one's MOSB insignia of office and individual awards is an individual decision. MOSB members may also wear medals of the Sons of Confederate Veterans (SCV) in conjunction with their MOSB medals.

This protocol has been prepared in order that members of the MOSB may bring credit to the organization by the proper display of their MOSB/SCV medals and insignia. National MOSB rules, as given on page 22 of the MOSB Chapter Handbook as well as this publication should be adhered to carefully when at a significant formal MOSB function. For less formal occasions, including routine wear at Society and National Reunions, they can be considered "guidelines" rather than "hard-and-fast rules", but of course Compatriots are expected to always display medals in a respectful and professional looking manner. While every member is responsible for wearing his medals and insignia correctly, it is also the responsibility of MOSB officers to encourage their members to wear medals and insignia in an appropriate manner. Compatriots may wear all medals to which they are entitled but should consider it in poor taste to "look like a 3rd world general" with a chest full of medals. However, each member is encouraged to limit himself to a reasonable selection of his highest awards and those of which he is most proud.

The MOSB insignia and decorations worn vary with the type of dress, whether "formal" or "informal". On informal occasions when business suits, blazers or sport coats are worn, MOSB Society and National Officers may wish to wear neck ribbons to indicate past or present office. On such non-formal occasions, MOSB custom has been to wear full size medals with business suits, blazers, or sport coats at MOSB Chapter meetings. Miniature medals are more appropriate at Society and National meetings. We are currently in a transition phase where large medals are being replaced by miniature medals which will soon become the norm for all occasions. Large medals are appropriate for wear on Confederate uniforms on any occasion other than reenactments wherein no medals should be worn.

At MOSB formal occasions, where a tuxedo or dark suit and tie are indicated, miniature medals should be worn. At no time should full-size medals be worn with a tuxedo, but members may wear full-size medals on a dark suit at formal gatherings.

Terminology

- Formal Dress - includes tuxedo or dark suit with tie
- Informal Dress - includes the business suit, the blazer jacket, and sport coat. Insignia are not worn on an overcoat.
- Award Medals – those worn by an individual through personal effort. Award Medals should only be worn at formal and semi-formal functions (banquets, reunions, memorial services, or similar occasions where the accepted wear is a suit, sports coat or Confederate uniform).
- Insignia Medal – Name tag and badges of office (Commander, Adjutant, etc.). Chapter officer insignia consists of the MOSB membership medal, with the applicable office designation on top of the ribbon.

The Society, Army and National Command Staff insignia consists of an MOSB Eagle attached to a neck ribbon. Society Commanders may add a distinctive emblem of their choosing to the neck ribbon to symbolize their particular state.

- Service Medals – medals available to groups for a particular service or participation, such as Life Membership or Honor Guard, as well as reunion or other special event commemorative medals. (Note: the War Service Medal and Southern Cross of Military Service are considered “Award”, not “Service” medals.)
- MOSB Rosette and Blazer Patch – these are special devices signifying membership in the MOSB. The rosette is a small, round gathering of specific coloration worn on the left lapel of blazers. The Blazer Patch is a bullion replica of the MOSB emblem and is worn on left jacket pocket of dress coat.

Mounting of Medals on Clothing

On formal or informal attire which have breast pockets:

- Award Medals should be pinned just above the top edge of the left breast pocket, with no more than four full-size medals or five miniature medals in a single row. If more than one row of medals are needed, the medals should be evenly divided between upper and lower row; for odd numbers of medals, the upper row should have the least number of medals displayed. The upper row should overlap the lower, with the rows staggered slightly to allow a small amount of ribbon of the lower row to show. More than three rows are discouraged.
- Insignia Medals should be centered on the right breast, at approximately the same level.
- Neck ribbons may be worn, but not more than two at a time, one above the other. The neck ribbon with MOSB drop should be on top with any other appropriate drop (i.e. Confederate Legacy Legion of Merit) below the MOSB drop.

On Confederate uniforms or formal attire without breast pockets:

- Award Medals should be centered on the left breast, approximately 10” from the top seam.
- Insignia Medals should be centered on the right breast, at approximately the same level.

Service Medals should not be routinely worn on Confederate uniforms or formal attire, with three exceptions:

- The MOSB Rosette and/or State Society Logos may be worn, centered on the left breast and slightly above the Award Medals.
- An Honor Guard medal (MOSB or SCV) may be worn on the right breast, at the same level and to the right of any Insignia Medal.
- An individual may choose to wear an event’s commemorative medal while at the event or when giving a report on the event back at his Camp, and then remove it thereafter. If worn, such an event medal should be mounted separately, below any Award Medals. In any case, all rows of medals should be above the top edge of the left breast pocket.

Precedence of Medals

Award Medals should be mounted just above the top edge of the left breast pocket, with the highest-ranking MOSB medal on the top row, inside, then proceeding to the wearer’s left. Next should come SCV medals, and finally other historical/genealogical society medals.

The Order of Precedence for MOSB Award Medals is as follows:

1. Robert E Lee Chalice
2. Gold Star (ANV, AOT, ATM are all considered equal in precedence)
3. Distinguished Commander
4. Confederate Legacy Citation of Honor
5. Military Service Medal
6. Military Service Medal (Obsolete Version)
7. MG Patrick R Cleburne Meritorious Service
8. COL John Pelham Legion of Merit
9. LT Charles Read Meritorious Service
10. Joseph Evan David
11. Rebel Club – Gold Medal
12. Rebel Club – Silver Medal
13. Rebel Club – Bronze Medal
14. LTG Thomas Jackson Medal
15. Henry Timrod Southern Culture
16. Award Medals of the SCV
17. Award Medals of other Historical/Genealogical Organizations

Some Basic “Don’ts”:

- Don’t mix miniature and full-size medals in the same grouping if practical. Since the MOSB is moving toward standardization to all miniature size medals, members who desire to wear all earned medals have two options as follows: (1) once a member receives a miniature-size medal, he is encouraged to purchase and wear miniature versions in lieu of any previously awarded full-size Award Medals, so as to have a consistent set; or (2) to save inordinate personal expense, as of 01JAN2022, members are authorized to group and wear miniature medals above previously earned full-size medals. If a member chooses to mix miniature and full-size medals, they must be grouped according to size and precedence. The miniature medal groupings must also be properly located with and above similar full-size medal types – i.e. Award Medals above left breast pocket; Insignia Medals on right breast and Service Medals on lapels. Don’t mix Award Medals, Insignia Medals, or Service Medals in the same grouping.
- Don’t wear Award Medals on informal outerwear. However, members may wear a Confederate-style vest, with office insignia and a few selected medals, to warm-weather MOSB meetings and events.
- Don’t wear medals on a Confederate uniform during reenactments or similar events, where one is portraying a Confederate soldier in “battle dress”. Some medals may be worn during parades, cemetery ceremonies or other similar events, but one should use caution to not “over decorate”, with an appearance that distracts the audience to that individual, rather than the prime purpose of seeing all the SCV participants as a group, honoring our Confederate ancestors.
- Don’t wear medals you didn’t personally earn.
- Don’t wear non-MOSB medals (except as noted above) to MOSB functions. MOSB members are hereby authorized to wear the Order of Confederate General’s Descendants (OCGD) membership insignia pin at all MOSB functions.

Examples of Proper Locations of Medals on Clothing

NOTES:

1. These depictions are for illustration purposes showing where medals are located; however, the number of medals on the coat in Figure 1 is atypical due to the sheer number present (consisting of MOS&B, SCV, and other medals available through individual vendors). Figure 2 depicts placement of medals on suit coats.

2. The National Convention Medal is worn ONLY during the event or when giving a presentation about the event; otherwise, it is not worn.

3. As mentioned previously, until such time as all MOS&B award medals have transitioned entirely to miniature medals, mixing of miniature and large medals is at the wearer's discretion; however, they should be worn grouped by size, then precedence as shown in Figure 1.

Colonel Walter Taylor and Captain John Morton Newsletter Awards

Points are awarded based on:

Format.....	15
Society and National News.....	30
Historical Content.....	20
Regular Publication Schedule.	15
Overall Interest and Appeal.....	20
Total Possible Points.....	100

To be considered for the competition, one copy of the front page of each newsletter published must be submitted (as a PDF file) to the Awards General by April 1st. Also, submit a complete PDF copy of the one issue that you want to be judged. A group of at least three non-partisan professionals with extensive writing experience will judge the newsletter competition. Winners will be ranked according to composite scores of the three judges. The decision of the judges is final.

The publication schedule for competition purposes is from the month of the last National Convention to April 1st of the following year.

A good newsletter should be suitable for either current or prospective MOS&B members. Minimally, it should include a list of primary Chapter/Society officer contact information, the date/time/frequency and place of meetings, details of upcoming events, and summary of recent past events. Photos should be of good quality, reasonable size, and captioned to identify the event and (for small groups) the people shown. Chapter/Society officer editorials, significant Society & National news events, CSA-related history, book reviews, etc. are encouraged. However, it should be kept short enough to maintain reader interest and not a large “monthly magazine” [12-page maximum is suggested].
