Military Order of the Stars and Bars Chapter Handbook

Revised April 2019

This newly revised Handbook is for the use of the Military Order of the Stars and Bars Chapters and general membership. Using a web-based format not only makes it more accessible to our membership, but it can quickly be updated as needed. By placing it on the web site a Chapter may choose to download the entire Handbook, print it and place in a three-ring binder to easily accept revisions or choose to simply download individual sections and print as needed.

Individual sections are devoted to our history, membership, our rituals and ceremonies, Chapter committees and officers, organizational structure as well as a description of our awards, certificates and medals. A brief guide to the correct protocol of wearing our medals is also included for use of the membership.

The Handbook is not meant to be comprehensive in nature, but to give general information that might be useful and interesting for Chapter building. Please feel free to make suggestions for any future additions that would be helpful to our Brotherhood.

A Brief History of the Military Order of the Stars and Bars

On June 10, 1889, in New Orleans, Louisiana, a group of proud surviving soldiers of the Confederate States of America organized an association called the United Confederate Veterans. Its goals were to protect and defend the honor and dignity of the memory of the Confederate soldier. As the ranks of the aged veterans of the UCV began to thin with the passage of time, a group of the surviving Confederate officers met in Columbia, South Carolina on August 30th, 1938 to discuss their concerns that the unique contributions made by the Confederate leadership were not properly chronicled in our nation's history books. They felt a particular duty fell to them as members of the Officers Corp.

This first meeting of what they named the "Order of the Stars & Bars" was convened with a great deal of enthusiasm by seventeen former Confederate officers as well as an additional forty-seven male descendant of Confederate officers in attendance. These dedicated men were unanimous in voting to begin a new CSA veteran society that would hold annual meetings. The OSB was unique in that the organization was made up of veterans and their descendants with the understanding that as the original Confederate officers died that it was the sacred responsibility of their male offspring to continue to carry on the purposes of the Order. Our first Commander-in-Chief was Captain Homer Atkinson, of Petersburg, Virginia, who served the Southern nation as the commanding officer of Company B of the 39th Mississippi Battalion. He served as the chief officer of the Order from the beginning until his death in 1945. In addition to commanding the new Order, Captain Atkinson served two terms as Commander-in-Chief of the United Confederate Veterans. Other successful leaders assumed the role of commander including Gen. Robert E. Lee's grandson Dr. George Bolling Lee. In later years of the Order, eligibility qualifications were broadened to allow collateral male descendants of Confederate commissioned officers as well as of any elected or appointed member of the Executive Branch of the Confederate Government. This brought additional members and new vigorous leadership to the Brotherhood. The name of the Order was changed to "The Military Order of the Stars & Bars" at the 39th General Convention held in Memphis, Tennessee in 1976. The first National Flag of the Confederate States of America, the Stars and Bars, was accepted as the official insignia of the Order and the commanding officer would be called the Commander General of the Military Order of the Star and Bars.

Today the fraternal Military Order of the Stars & Bars, a non-profit 501(c) 3, non-political educational, historical, patriotic, and heritage group continues its dedication to the preservation of Southern history and remains the only heritage organization actually founded by Confederate veterans. A wide-range of programs has been added to reorganize outstanding contributions in the fields of history, fine arts and journalism. College scholarships and monetary awards are offered to emphasize the need for truth in Confederate history. Prestigious literary prizes are awarded to authors and publishing houses. Monuments are being erected to the CSA soldiers. Journalists who practice ethical and fair reporting of local and Southern history are recognized. An emphasis is placed on American Patriotism and the honoring of all American veterans. The Order works with other like-minded heritage and patriotic groups such as the Sons of Confederate Veterans, United Daughters of the Confederacy, Order of the Confederate Rose and the Order of the Southern Cross, to promote a truthful history of Confederate States as well as general American history. The Order also emphasizes family tradition and encourages our membership to preserve their family's Confederate history for posterity. To that end, each MOS&B membership application with its genealogical records becomes a permanent historical record and is kept on file at the National MOS&B Archives in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. All MOS&B Headquarters files are all being digitized. Members are leaders in the collecting of data, documents and relics that preserve the history and heritage of the Southland and the War Between the states, but also in the preserving of the history of America's Colonial, Revolutionary and Federal periods. The Order remains fervent in its Patriotism and support of the basic principles of the United States Constitution. As in decades past, the Military Order of Stars and Bars continues to cultivate the ties of friendship and create Brothers united in their common purposes. The friendship and fellowship of individuals united in a shared heritage and history remains of prime importance to the membership. Meetings and annual National Reunions are times of education and learning, but also opportunities for the good times shared by the Compatriots of the Order.

Basic Organizational Structure

The membership of the Military Order of the Stars and Bars is composed of legitimate male descendants, lineal or collateral, of those who served as officers in the Confederate Army or Navy to the end of the War, or who died in prison or while in actual service were killed in battle, or who were honorably retired or discharged, and descendants of elected and appointed officials of the Executive or legislative branch of the civil government.

The MOS&B national constitution's Article V divides the General Society into three Departments, State Societies and Chapters. In addition, it prescribes the organization and duties of MOS&B Chapters. The chapter is the basic unit of the society. Chapters may be formed in states where state societies already exist, in which case they become part of the state society and remain assigned thereto. Our General Headquarters will also maintain the President Jefferson Davis Chapter No. 1 for members who are not part of a local chapter or a state society.

Five national members are required to form a new chapter. Fifteen MOS&B members residing in the state where a state society has not been formed may create one or more Chapters and then submit an application to form a new state society to the General Executive Council (Article V, Section 3. Such application should be made to:

Military Order of the Stars and Bars GHQ Post Office Box 697, Nixa, Missouri 65714-0697

The three Departments that state societies are assigned to are; (1 Army of Northern Virginia, (2 Army of Tennessee Department and (3 Army of the Trans Mississippi. The Army of Northern Virginia Department consists of the following state societies: District of Columbia, Maryland, North Carolina, South Carolina, West Virginia, Virginia and all states east of the state of Ohio and north of the state of Virginia. The Army of Tennessee Department consists of the following state societies: Alabama, Georgia, Florida, Indiana, Kentucky, Mississippi, Tennessee and those states not included in the other two Departments' regions. The Army of the Trans Mississippi Department consists of the following state societies: Arkansas, Louisiana, Missouri, Oklahoma, Texas and States West of the Mississippi River. National conventions are held annually in cities throughout the southern United States. These conventions are family events that allow members to gather in a fraternal body to conduct the business of the General Society as well as to attend educational sessions, visit historical sites and informally meet with new and old compatriots. The convention includes a prayer breakfast, awards luncheon, business sessions and concludes with a black tie or period dress banquet.

Throughout the Order, the state societies and local chapters have regular meetings and conventions, hold Jefferson Davis Banquets, Lee-Jackson Banquets, sponsor historical War Between the States lectures, and participate in patriotic memorial events. While heritage preservation and education are the primary function, the gathering of compatriots is always a social event enjoyed by those sharing a common Southern heritage.

Joining the Military Order of the Stars and Bars

Membership in the Military Order of the Stars and Bars (MOS&B) will be one of the your most meaningful experiences. There must be a qualifying ancestor to join our order. A qualifying ancestor will have been an Officer, a Surgeon, a Chaplain in the Confederate Army or Navy, or an elected or appointed official in the Confederate States of America 1861-1865. Proof of honorable service is a must.

The preferred method to join the MOS&B is through a chapter in your area. To determine the closest chapter, contact our General Headquarters: headquarters@militaryorderofthestarsandbars.org.

Headquarters can guide you through the process and see that you are placed in contact with a convenient chapter. If no local chapter is available, you will join the National At-Large Chapter.

The first step will be to download and save the auto fill form application to your hard drive. Then open it up and begin typing your answers. Handwritten applications are discouraged and no application will be accepted if submitted in pencil. The application is an auto form fill type, so you can work on it until you are ready to print, sign and mail it in.

For direct relationship begin by filling out the family information sheet, starting with yourself and continue through each generation back to your Qualifying Confederate Ancestor.

For a collateral relationship type the application from you to the Most Common Recent Ancestor (MCRA) which is typically a distant Grandparent. Mark the ancestor MCRA. This is very important.

If necessary, use a second application beginning with the MCRA and list to the Qualifying Confederate Ancestor. Make sure to label the applications 1 & 2 or A and B.

If you can link your family tree to our Collateral Database, then begin the application from you and list each generation to the ancestor as stated above.

Fill in all known dates and locations for each generation and include maiden names.

Proofs: Always begin with a copy of your birth certificate and your parent's birth and or death certificates. Always use primary documents including birth-marriage or death certificates-census records, family bible entries, published genealogical books on your family tree, and military records to the extent that is practical. Use one primary proof per generation.

It is the 21st century and primary documents can be found back to the turn of the 20th century easily. Applicants for membership in a local chapter will be assisted by local resources and members. Those applying for National-At-Large membership will be assisted by the Genealogist General.

Proof of acceptable Confederate service is mandatory.

Collateral relationships must demonstrate a precise degree of relation "EG (5C5R) or Great Nephew.

Each application from a local chapter must be signed by the applicant and also by the individual recommending membership, a local chapter officer, and the society genealogist or society commander.

If applying for National At-Large Chapter, the application and all supporting documents along with the joining fee payable to the MOS&B must be mailed to:

Military Order of Stars and Bars GHQ, P. O. Box 697, Nixa, MO 65714-0697

Legacy applications must be filled out completely and signed. Primary proofs must be provided from the applicant to the current member in that the legacy application is based on. If further proofs or information is required, the Genealogist General will contact the applicant for them.

Members submitting supplemental applications should download the auto fill application form, fill it out and attach all proofs. You can digitally sign it and email it to Jon Eric Trent jtrent1@cougars.ccis.edu and mail the check to GHQ. Because you are already a member you do not need any other signature on the form but your own. All generations need a proof, since the application goes into a separate file.

General Membership Application Procedure

An Applicant for membership in the Military Order of the Stars & Bars has two options: (1) membership in a Local Chapter, or (2) membership in a state societies headquarters' chapter, and (3) the National At-Large Chapter. The advantage of membership in a local chapter is the personal association that a chapter provides. Local chapter adjutants or other designated persons will assist in the preparation of the membership application. Most chapters are located in state societies, which provide additional opportunities for fellowship at the state level. Those choosing a local chapter affiliation will submit the application through the designated local chapter officer, who will then forward it to the State Genealogist for further review and approval. The final level of required approval is the Genealogist General. The applicant will be informed of any local chapter and state society dues. The national new member fee is $60. The appropriate fees should be forwarded along with the completed application. The national new member fee covers the cost of a membership certificate, a lapel pin, and a membership card. The fee also covers national dues for the current year. Should the application have deficiencies, it will be returned to the individual through the same chain of approval with required improvements indicated. Applicants choosing to join the National At-Large Chapter will deal directly with the Genealogist General. Upon final approval, the application will be forwarded to GHQ, which will issue the new member's certificate, card and pin. Life memberships are available. A one-time fee is determined by the applicant's age. Details are available on the National website: <http://www.militaryorderofthestarsandbars.org/>. Local chapters and state societies, in some cases, also offer life memberships. Questions regarding membership should be addressed to the Genealogist General.

Chapter Officers, Duties and Responsibilities

Every Chapter may not have every position listed here simply because of chapter size. However, all chapters are required as a minimum to have a Commander, Lieutenant Commander and Adjutant. As chapter's numbers and activities increase, more positions will be needed not only to carry out the goals and purpose of the Military Order of the Stars and Bars, but also to train new leadership for the future.

Chapter Commander: He has a unique responsibility to provide leadership, to encourage, assist, guide, maintain esprit de corps, and above all, to work to achieve harmony within the chapter, state society, national MOS&B as well as other organizations and groups with which the chapter has a relationship. The chapter Commander presides at all meetings or delegates his subordinates to preside. He appoints all committees with input from others that he feels necessary to help run the chapter.

First Lieutenant Commander: This officer is second only to the Commander in responsibility. He presides in the absence of the Commander. Upon resignation or death of the Commander, the First Lieutenant Commander automatically becomes Chapter Commander. He also serves as the program chairman for the Chapter. In most Chapters it is assumed that he will succeed the Commander if he has proven himself equal to the task in the eyes of his fellow members.

Second Lieutenant Commander: This officer is third in responsibility and upon a vacancy in the position of First Lieutenant Commander succeeds to that post. He may serve as the publisher of the chapter newsletter, direct activities of the editor, and coordinates the printing of chapter publications such as a Chapter Handbook. He develops ideas and programs to raise funds for the chapter treasury and for special purposes and projects, which he may be assigned.

Adjutant: The Adjutant maintains all chapter records, prepares chapter rosters with the assistance of the Chapter Treasurer, prepares and submits all reports such as the Annual Chapter Report to the various So-ciety, Department and General Headquarters. He records the minutes of all chapter meetings, submits approved applications for membership in the chapter to the Society Genealogist, maintains current membership applications, MOS&B information pamphlets, prospective members list, grave location forms, etc. He also conducts chapter correspondence as required. The Adjutant/Treasurer position could be combined.

Treasurer: The Treasurer is responsible for the chapter's financial records and reports. These responsibilities include the receiving of all monies paid to the chapter, such as dues and dispersing them to the right channels, paying all bills incurred by the Chapter, keeping an account of all financial transactions of the Chapter, and handling all banking business for the Chapter. In many chapters, these treasury duties are combined with the Adjutant. The Adjutant/Treasurer position could be combined.

Chaplain: The Chaplain offers prayers at the opening of the chapter meeting and the MOS&B Benediction at the close of the meeting, serves at memorial services, Roll of Honor Services, graveside services, grave markings, and other occasions when it is appropriate, to ask for Divine Guidance.

Historian: The Historian is responsible for maintaining the chapter scrapbook and acting as the recorder of chapter history. He may be asked to submit the chapter scrapbook for the National Convention. The position may be combined with another officer in some Chapters.

Judge Advocate: The Judge Advocate is the chapter legal advisor and acts as parliamentarian at official chapter sessions. If an attorney is a chapter member then it would be useful for him to fill this role.

Genealogist: The Chapter Genealogist should be available to help any new potential member in filling out his application for membership or any current member doing the same with a supplemental ancestor. He should be familiar with local, state and national archives and libraries where genealogical research is found. He should be competent in using the Internet and be familiar with sources to help in genealogical research.

Color Sergeant: The Color Sergeant serves in Memorial Services, Roll of Honor, special programs and parades as the arranger and/or principal color bearer for the National and Confederate flags. He will lead the membership at Chapter meetings in the Pledges/Salutes of Allegiance to the National, State and Confederate flags. At all chapter functions he acts as Sergeant at Arms with the responsibility to maintain order and decorum.

Quartermaster: The Quartermaster is responsible for the care and maintenance of the chapter flags, supplies and equipment, and ensures its availability as necessary at chapter meetings, memorial services, Roll of Honor, funerals, parades, and other functions in which the chapter takes part.

Webmaster/Facebook Administrator: Social media is now very important in promoting your chapter and your activities. It is a very inexpensive way to get your message out to the general public and to help grow your membership. You should have a member that is computer literate that can manage both your Facebook Page and website should you have both.

Newsletter Editor: Communicating with your members is very important in order to continue to grow your chapter. It also helps inform them of your chapter meetings and events. Since most of your members have e-mail, your newsletters can now be distributed electronically. Your chapter can send out hard copies of your newsletters to those members who do not have e-mail.

Scrapbook Editor: The chapter scrapbook is a great way to document your chapter's activities from year to year. Once completed, the scrapbook serves as the chapter's history for that year. The T. J. Fakes Award is awarded to the Chapter with the best scrapbook. See Page 20 for more details.

Executive Council: The Executive Council is composed of all elected chapter officers as well as the past chapter commanders for the previous four years. Working as a team under the commander's leadership, they shall be responsible for the overall long-range direction of the chapter and are deeply involved in planning the chapter's programs and activities. Matters of major importance concerning the chapter's future should be brought before this council before presentation to the chapter.

Succession: Every officer has a unique and special responsibility to preserve and maintain custody of all chapter records generated during his term of office or entrusted to his care. Upon his departure from office, he is required to turn over to his successor, in good order, all records in his possession. In the absence of an immediate successor, such records shall be turned over to the Adjutant until a new officer is selected as in the case of elected chapter officers.

Recommended Chapter Committees

In the beginning, with new chapters, with possibly as few as five members as is the minimum required for a charter, the few will be asked to do more than in the case of our larger chapters. These are some committees that the chapter should have as their membership grows and activities increase.

1. Membership Committee: If a chapter does not continue to grow, most likely, it will not survive. Growth comes by recruiting and retaining members by having regularly scheduled interesting programs and activities to keep everyone involved. The committee should be present to hand out applications at all appropriate meetings, stay in contact with the Camp Adjutant to find out if any new members had ancestors making others eligible for the MOS&B, and promoting the Legacy Program to recruit Sons and Grandsons of current members. Attending genealogical seminars, SCV, UDC, OCR, SR, SAR and other appropriate patriotic and heritage meetings with MOS&B applications available is also recommended.

2. Finance (Ways and Means) Committee: This committee is responsible for any chapter fundraising activities, sales and the development of any other financial programs. They should help develop a yearly budget with the officers to budget for supplies, refreshments, speaker donations, and supplies for the annual chapter events.

3. Auditing Committee: Once per year it is advisable to appoint an Auditing Committee to investigate the use of chapter funds for the protection of the officers as well as the members. Chapters may have a Certified Public Accountant or bookkeeper in their chapter who will volunteer. Before administrations change, the finances should be reviewed.

4. Nominating Committee: Three months prior to the election of chapter officers, a Nominating Committee should be appointed by the Commander, Executive Committee or as specified in the Chapter Constitution and Bylaws. This Committee should attempt to include one of the past chapter commanders. They should present to the Chapter a slate of officers for the chapter's approval on a set election date as provided in the Chapter Constitution and Bylaws.

5. Heritage Committee: This Committee is responsible for marking, repairing and decorating Confederate graves. They should work closely with responsible governing agencies to insure historical sites and graves are maintained and protected. They may also monitor activity in the community so that heritage violations can quickly be identified and the information provided to the local, State Society and National membership as soon as possible for an appropriate response.

Initiation Ceremony for New Members

All new members should be inducted and welcomed into the Order with an appropriate and dignified ceremony. Below is the Official Initiation Ritual of the Military Order of the Stars and Bars. The Chapter Commander, or his designate, shall ask all new members admitted to the chapter since the last meeting to come before the members, raise their right hand, place their left hand on the chapter's Holy Bible (or the shoulder of the person in front of them) and repeat following with the Commander:

I, (full name of the new member), pledge allegiance to the United States of America. I also pledge, to the best of my ability, to live up to and support the Constitution, Bylaws and principles of this organization, the Military Order of the Stars and Bars.

I salute the Confederate flag with affection, reverence, and undying devotion to the cause for which it stands.

The MOS&B Pledge will be repeated by all new and old members: We, the posterity of the Officer Corps and civil officials of the Confederacy, do pledge ourselves to commemorate and honor the service of leadership these men rendered in the cause of fundamental American principles of self-determination and states' rights and to perpetuate the true history of their deeds for the edification of ourselves, our society, and for generations yet unborn.

At this point, membership certificates may be given and pins placed on the new members. The Commander concludes: By the powers vested in me as Commander, I declare you a member of the (Chapter name) Chapter. We welcome you within the ranks of the Military Order of the Stars and Bars.

The Chapter Commander shall lead the applause welcoming new members into the Order referring to them as Compatriots.

Initiation Ceremony for New Chapter Officers

Chapter officers should be installed in a dignified ceremony that impresses upon them and the members of the importance of their responsibilities. All Chapters are encouraged to possess a chapter Holy Bible for use in ceremonies and rituals.

The person installing the new chapter officers may install the Commander, Lieutenant Commander and Adjutant separately or as a group. Other chapter officers shall be installed as a group. The installing officer shall ask all to raise their right hand and place their left hand over the chapter's Holy Bible and repeat after him:

"I, (full name), pledge to support and uphold the Constitution, Bylaws and principles of the Military Order of the Stars and Bars; to carry the responsibility of my office with honor, and to defend the right to free speech and the heritage we have."

Installing Officer: "By the powers vested in me as (MOS&B title of installing officer), I declare you duly installed as (Commander, Lieutenant Commander, Adjutant or Officers of the Order). We welcome you to your leadership role in the (state chapter name) Chapter and pledge to you our support."

The installing officer will then lead the applause for the newly installed officers.

Pledges and Salutes for MOS&B Meetings

Please note that it is traditional that at all MOS&B functions, members will refer to each other by officer title or Compatriot.

Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

Salute to Individual State Flag

It is recommended that the members of the Military Order of the Stars and Bars commit the Pledge to memory and utilize it as a part of the opening of any meeting of the MOS&B

Recommended Sample Prayers to be used at chapter meetings

1. Almighty Creator, we come to you with the deepest gratitude in our hearts for all the gifts you give us each day – family, loved ones, good friends, laughter, our heritage. Help us always to receive these gifts with thanksgiving and may our hearts be stirred to remember all of your mercies which we receive through your grace and love towards us.

As we gather, we give recognition to the spirit that made our country great – a willingness to give totally of ourselves, even unto death. For the great blessing of being a part of this country we give you thanks. For the joy, loyalty, dedication and faith that Lee and Jackson brought to our lives we also give you thanks -- you lent them to us for a short time, and we were blessed by their presence. As we gather to show our appreciation and respect for all that they gave to us and their country, help us to be ever mindful of all that we still have. It is your strength that enables us to protect others, it is your providence that keeps us safe – help us to turn our hearts towards you each and every day.

We ask your blessing on our speaker, for good food and those who prepare it, and for good friends with whom to share it, we thank you Lord. Amen.

2. With hearts humble with the sense of our responsibility, yet proud of the confidence placed in us; with hearts grateful for the rich heritage bequeathed to us by our fathers, yet also determined to be ever vigilant to preserve it, we ask Your blessing, O God, on this meeting of Military Order of Stars & Bars, that it may be fruitful in its accomplishments and lasting in the good it effects. Be with us, in our thinking, and guide us as we work for You, our country and our fellow man. Amen.

3. Heavenly Father, we come to you today asking for your guidance, wisdom, and support as we begin this meeting. Help us to engage in meaningful discussion; allow us to grow closer as a group and nurture the bonds of community. Fill us with your grace, Lord God, as we make decisions that might affect our country, our families, and our friends. And continue to remind us that all that we do here today, all that we accomplish, is for the pursuit of truth for the greater glory of You, and for the service of humanity. We ask these things in your name. Amen.

Honor Roll Ceremony for our Ancestors

1. As each MOS&B member enters the event, he is given a card and asked to place on it the following:
 - (a) Name of ancestor
 - (b) Rank or title
 - (c) Military organization or government service
 - (d) Any special event of his ancestor to be noted

The completed card shall be returned to the distributing officer prior to being seated.

2. Upon returning his completed card to the distributing officer, he will be provided with a white candle to keep with him during the event.

3. At the appropriate time, the Commander will ask each member to light his candle as the house lights are slowly dimmed. During this time, large white candles (one for each name as indicated) on a central table at the front of the dais will be lighted by the Commander or his designee.

4. When all candles are lighted, the Commander or his designee will call the Roll of Honor from the information placed on the cards. As a member's ancestor is intoned, the member will stand and extinguish his candle and say what he wishes about his ancestor for a minute or so. He will then be seated.

5. After all cards have been read, the large white candles on the central table will be extinguished one by one as the following names are called by the Commander or his designee: "President Jefferson Davis, General Robert E. Lee, etc" and any other officers of the Confederacy, state or local that the sponsoring body may wish to intone. The names and candles will be equal, but one candle will be left burning on the table.

6. The Commander will point to this one candle stating that "This is dedicated to the Confederacy and will never be extinguished."

7. If glassed drinks are available, the Commander will ask all present to stand. He will then propose a toast to all Confederate ancestors and to the Confederacy.

NOTE: If it is impractical to have candles or to lower the house lights, the program may be held with all parts relating to candles or lights eliminated. If at all possible, candles should be provided for use in Item 5 whether other candles can be provided or whether the house lights can be turned down.

The Last Commission

The Last Commission is issued by the GHQ and the Chaplain General upon the death of a member. The current procedure for issuing a Last Commission is as follows. This is our procedure, and as we always want to work with everyone, we need to keep this procedure simple.:

1. The member that passed away must have been a member in good standing in the past two years. For example, we will not be issuing this to a member that hasn't been in good standing for many years unless he has been in pretty poor health all of that time.
2. The Last Commission form can be submitted by any current member of the MOS&B and shall be mailed to the Chaplain General.
3. He then writes one (1) letter to the first next of kin listed on the form.
4. The Chaplain General will also send a Last Commission certificate to this next of kin or have the GHQ do so.

Graveside Ceremonies for Departed Members

This service is designed to either precede or succeed the regular burial service at the graveside of the departed member if desired by the family. The wishes of the officiating clergy and the family should be determined in what order the Military Order of the Stars and Bars Service will be conducted. Prior to the beginning of the service it is desirable that the coffin be covered with the First National Confederate flag (The Stars and Bars). If at all possible a uniformed firing party of uniformed soldiers and a bugler will be present. All the members will assemble at a short distance from the grave so that they may approach in military step preceded by a flag of the Confederacy (this should not be the battle flag; one of the versions of the Confederate national flag should be used). When all have arrived at the graveside, the Commander will take his place at the head of the casket, the Chaplain at the foot, and the service will commence.

Commander: We are here today to pay the last tribute of friendship in the presence of the honored dead. We are to commit to the grave the body of a comrade whose life aside from its other ties of friendship and sociability was drawn very close to our lives by a bond of love which was formed amidst a common dedication to that great heritage and responsibility which is ours as descendants of a Confederate Soldier in the Confederate States of America.

Chaplain: We have heard with our ears, Oh, God - our fathers have told us - what work thou didst in their days, in the time of old. Surely I will never forget any of their works. Yea though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; for thou art with me, thy rod and thy staff they comfort me. God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. We call upon you, Lord, in the day of trouble as thou sayest, I will deliver thee and thou shalt glorify me. Blessed are they that mourn; for they shall be comforted. Then shall the King say unto them on his right hand, come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the fountain of the world. Amen.

Lieutenant Commander: He was an honored member of our great Order, true and tried, a gallant spirit who by his steadfastness held up the immortality of Southern Arms. He fought a good fight and has left a record of which we, his surviving compatriots, are proud, and which is a heritage of glory to his family and their descendants for all time to come. Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life.

Commander: Once more the bugle call has sounded and another compatriot, obedient to the signal, has laid down in his sleep. No more shall the sound of martial music, the measured tramp of marching legions, the crash of arms, or the roar of conflict arouse in him the warrior's resolve "To do, or die." His battle of life has been fought, he has been relieved from his post of duty in our great Order, and he has crossed over the river to rest under the shade of the trees. Let us leave him to his rest, and as the earth will hide him from our sight forever; Let us bury in oblivion any recollection of his human frailties, commemorating only the virtues of one who was our friend. Yet a little while, and we, too shall fold our hands in peaceful repose, from which there shall be no awakening until the last great Reveille shall rouse the slumbering millions to answer to their names before the great Captain of the Universe.

Lieutenant Commander: Compatriots, let us engage in the battle of life with an unflinching resolve to do our duty. Let our vicissitudes, however trying, no pleasures, however alluring drive or tempt us to abandon our post; and when at last we approach the Sentinel that keeps eternal guard over the great golden gate, let us be prepared with the countersign that will admit us to the company of those who have been tried and not found wanting, those choice spirits who, holding their conscience unmixed with blame, have been in all conditions true to themselves, to their country, and to their God.

Chaplain: God, Creator of the universe and Commander of the hosts of heaven, to thy care we commit the spirit of our departed comrade. While by day the sun makes its round, and by night the stars keep watch and ward above the bivouac of the dead. We commit his body to the earth. Dust to dust, ashes to ashes in the sure and certain hope of the resurrection of the dead through Our Lord Jesus Christ. Amen. May his soul, and the souls of all the faithful departed, through the mercies of Christ rest in peace. Amen.

NOTE: At the conclusion, the firing party will fire three volleys. The bugler will then play taps. The Commander and Lieutenant Commander, or other appointed members of the Chapter, will fold the flag and present the sacred banner to the widow or other family member. The members will then be dismissed by the Commander.

Memorial Service for Departed Compatriots

This Service is suggested when a Chapter, Society or Department desires to memorialize a departed member or when it may wish to remember several departed comrades at an Annual Memorial Service. It may be varied to suit special circumstances and the terminology changed when more than one comrade is memorialized. It is not intended to be used in place of regular church or grave side service. When all are assembled at the appointed meeting area one of the flags of the Confederacy or the chapter flag is brought forward and presented. The Commander ties a black cord or ribbon at the top of the flag, which will remain on the flag throughout the service and during any meeting which may follow and the Charter of the Chapter is draped in black cloth. After the flag and Charter are appropriately decorated the Commander begins the Service.

Commander: We are here today to pay the last tribute of friendship to our honored dead. We, the descendants of the Officers of the Officers Corps and civil government of the Confederate States of America, have assembled in loving memory of our friend and compatriot in the Military Order of the Stars and Bars.

Chaplain: "Man that is born of woman is of few days, and full of trouble. He cometh forth like a flower, and is cut down: he fleeth also as a shadow and continueth not. As the waters fail from the sea and the flood decayeth and drieth up; so man lieth down, and riseth not: till the heavens be no more, they shall not wake, nor be raised out of their sleep. For I know that my Redeemer liveth, and that he shall stand at the latter day upon the earth and though this body be destroyed yet shall I see God: whom I shall see for myself, and mine eyes shall behold and not another."

Lieutenant Commander: Compatriot (Member's name) was a good soldier and faithful member of our Chapter, tried and true. He has fought the good fight. The bugle has sounded taps and he is at rest. He will sleep until the reveille of Heaven calls him to take his place in the ranks of the immortal legions of the Great Commander.

Chaplain: "God, Creator of the universe and Commander of the hosts of heaven, to thy care we commit the spirit of our departed compatriot. While by day the sun makes its round, and by night the stars keep watch and ward above the bivouac of the dead, grant that we may have the life and example of our departed comrade so in remembrance that our years may be years of usefulness and honor; and that at last when we have crossed over the river to rest under the shade of the trees with Lee and Jackson and Davis, we may find our names inscribed upon the rolls of thy celestial Hosts. Amen.

Protocol for Wearing of MOS&B Medals

Medals are worn only with suit and tie, black or white tie or period dress. Large and miniature medals should not be worn at the same time; use either all large or all miniatures. When more than one medal is worn, all must be of the same size; miniature and full size insignia are not worn together.

Medals should be in one horizontal line on the left lapel or breast of the coat. More than one row of medals may be worn and the decision is a matter of personal taste. Each horizontal line should not include more than five medals. The top row of medals may have the membership medals of all the appropriate organizations to which the wearer belongs. Starting closest to the middle of the chest, one should wear the medal of the organization hosting the event.

- At MOS&B functions it would be the MOS&B membership medal. Going to the left should be the medals of the other organizations if worn in the order of their founding date (i.e. Magna Charta before SAR before War of 1812, etc.). The award medals are in a row under the top row in the order they were awarded. Medals should not be worn on the wearer's right side. Neck Ribbons may be worn, but not more than two at a time, one above the other. The MOS&B drop should be on top with any other appropriate drop (i.e. Confederate Legacy Legion of Merit or Order of the Southern Cross) below the MOS&B drop.
- MOS&B Rosette* The official MOS&B Rosette is worn alone on informal occasions in the left lapel of a blazer.
- MOS&B Blazer Patch* The blazer patch is correctly worn on a traditional blazer only. It is placed on the left jacket pocket of the coat and is not worn with that of another group.
- Official ties, the rosette as well as official blazer patches and pocket identification badges are available at the Military Order of the Stars and Bars store

Presentation Ceremony of the General Joseph Orville Shelby's Sword

When a Chapter grows, it will eventually want to secure a sword to be passed down to each new Commander and to be used in every ceremony and activity undertaken. This presentation ceremony of General Joseph Orville Shelby's sword provides a great short program that can be repeated each year for the benefit of new members.

1st Lieutenant Commander: Born in Lexington, Kentucky to a wealthy and influential family, Joseph Orville Shelby attended Transylvania University. The great Joseph Shelby formed the Lafayette County Mounted Rifles, leading them into battle at Carthage, Wilson's Creek, and Pea Ridge. In 1862, he led his famous "Iron Brigade" of Missouri Volunteers on Shelby's Raid, one of the longest cavalry raids of the war. This successful raid led to his promotion to Brigadier General on December 15, 1863.

Second Lieutenant Commander: In June 1865, rather than surrender, Shelby and approximately 1,000 of his remaining troops rode south to Mexico. Shelby sank his honored battle flag in the Rio Grande near Eagle Pass, rather than risk the flag falling into the hands of the Federals. The event is depicted in a huge painting displayed at the Eagle Pass City Hall.

Chaplain: Shelby and his men are immortalized as "the undefeated" and they are commemorated in the song "The Unreconstructed Rebel". He died of pneumonia at his farm near Adrian, Missouri in 1897, and is buried at Forest Hill Cemetery, Kansas City.

Adjutant: The towns through which they passed provided whatever food or supplies the inhabitants could spare. Shelby's men received a particularly warm welcome at New Braunfels, where the German community toasted his retreating force with buckets of beer in appreciation of their discipline while passing through. Among the final 132 men with him who refused to surrender were John B. Clark, Sr, Danville Ledbetter, Thomas C. Hindman, and Sterling Price. After resting at the Menger Hotel in San Antonio, he left for Mexico and joined up with Governors Charles Morehead of Kentucky, and Henry Allen of Louisiana, along with Generals John Bankhead "Prince" Magruder, Trusten Polk, Monroe Parsons, George Flournoy, and Hamilton P. Bee.

Former Commander: This replica of Shelby's historic sword is hereby presented to the new Commander of the (state chapter name and number) of The Military Order of Stars & Bars, and is to be passed along and formally presented to each successive Commander upon his election. Congratulations. (Sword will be passed among the members in attendance, before being returned to the Commander by the Chaplain, where it will remain in a place of prominence for each meeting)

Confederate Legacy Endowment Fund

Shortly after the war for Southern Independence was over, the patriotic women of the South banded together to care for their honored dead by moving them from the battlefields to cemeteries, seeing that their graves were properly marked and building monuments to their memory on town squares and courthouse lawns throughout the South. We now face a different culture that would like to destroy this last vestige of tribute to our courageous ancestors. Unfortunately, this attitude has even become pervasive in the South. Paying homage to our Confederate dead by erecting cemetery markers and monuments is not "politically correct" either. More and more The cemetery markers and monuments to our Confederate Soldiers are defaced and destroyed by acts of vandalism.

That is why the Confederate Legacy Endowment Fund needs your help and support. Through the Confederate Legacy Endowment Fund, the Military Order of the Stars and Bars is undertaking to restore and rebuild Southern memorials and monuments and providing scholarships to our young men and women. We are emphasizing to our Southern Youth that the Confederacy is not accurately portrayed by the media or by many educational institutions. The MOS&B has formed the Confederate Legacy Endowment Fund to fight the battle against "political correctness" and apathy. Our long-term goal is to raise One Million ($1,000,000.00) to promote our Confederate Heritage. We need your help.

Specifically, the Confederate Legacy Endowment will:

- 1) Obtain land acquisitions and right-of-ways in/around Confederate memorials/monuments.
- 2) Establish a perpetual Confederate monument and memorial maintenance fund.
- 3) Fund Academic Scholarships.
- 4) Construct statuary for our Confederate heroes.
- 5) Publish Pro-Confederate books and treatises.
